

The Wiltshire Local Digital Roadmap recognises the significant role and use of digital technology in supporting people to live healthier lives, whilst transforming the way care is delivered.

The Wiltshire Local Digital Roadmap outlines how we as a local health and social care economy will achieve the ambitions nationally recognised to improve care quality and patient experience through successful interface with benefits linked to digital technology and innovation.

Wiltshire has already provided significant levels of digital care and information sharing and there have been advances in assistive technology and analytics delivering evidenced based patient outcomes and improved quality of care.

On a day to day basis front line care is monitored to ensure that change is clinically driven and the technology is used as an enabler to improve patient experience, care provision and clinical outcomes. Our aim is to enable individuals to take control of their own health and wellbeing, supported by a connected health and social care process where professionals and the public are able to access the information they require through integrated systems. Citizens are encouraged to work with health and social care professionals to identify further areas of opportunity as we innovate and progress with our integrated systems.

In order to ensure our vision is delivered it is essential that the access, delivery and experience of digital data is shared and managed through the health and social economy. This approach will assist greatly and help us to achieve the national challenge and support the delivery of our Sustainability Transformation Plans.

It is clear that currently within the health and social service delivery we have many providers, a lot of duplication and an unwarranted variation in the quality of care. New and innovative ways of working are essential in order to achieve clinical and financial sustainability, deliver services at a reduced cost and create workforce and financial capacity to support a shift of care from acute to community settings.

Close working and collaboration of providers, local commissioners and the local authorities will support and enable the direction to deliver a digitally enabled future where empowerment and sharing information is a priority focus to improve health for the local population.

To support the direction for Wiltshire to deliver its digital transformation plans the Local Digital Roadmap is underpinned by the innovation and commitment from health and social care providers in order to optimise its implementation and overall benefit realisation. Local ambitions and national challenges surrounding sustainability will continue to be developed and executed collaboratively to ensure the direction of digitally-enabled health.
